Along with school work, we have had many good times at Randolph High School. The clubs, sports, dances and other activities have enlivened our four years at R.H.S.

Four years ago, Buddy Hart played his first football game, Bob Powers ran his first race, Mike Gabardi's friendly smile started him on the road to Senior Class President, Don Saidel began to exhibit scholastic excellence. We are leaving high school now and as adults, we will succeed, inspired by our experiences at R.H.S.

Freshmen find that science provides much informative reading.

Modern methods and equipment, and excellent teachers make Randolph High School the fine school that it is. Each year members of the graduating class attain goals, they set for themselves as freshmen, . . . scholarships and awards, college and job acceptances, . . . sources of pride for the individuals and the school.

As seniors we begin to realize and appreciate the value of our education, and the vital role of R.H.S.

Fun and Education . . .

Learning to work as members of a team is an integral part of our education. Students have unlimited chance to join in . . . classes, clubs, office work, and athletics provide opportunity for all to function as part of a co-operative effort.

This vital aspect of total education allows many interesting, useful hours for the participants and results in better future citizens for our community.

Dedicated To . . .

MR. FRANCIS O'BRIEN

It is with utmost respect and pride that the Class of 1963 dedicates the Oracle to Mr. Francis O'Brien, who has inspired us both as a teacher and as a coach. Through his efforts, we have been kept in contact with, and brought to a greater understanding of the problems in our world of fluctuating affairs. His sense of fairness and sportsmanship, displayed in his classes, is also spread to, and imbued in, the athletes he advises in his duties as baseball coach. May the spirit of enthusiasm and scholarship brought to us by Mr. O'Brien bring him much satisfaction and happiness in his career.

FOREWORD

Your four years at Randolph High School are important ones, to you, they represent an opportunity to attain a personal goal, and they serve the entire community by better preparing you to live, work, and serve, in our complex society.

As you peruse the pages of your ORACLE we hope many pleasant memories, of the classes, friends, activities, and faculty, symbolic of your high school education will be aroused.

With Deep Appreciation . . .

WE HONOR

. . . Mr. Gilgan, our Principal, who has helped us all, through our years at Randolph High, by striving to insure that our school may provide us the best possible education. We especially appreciated his friendly smile, understanding attitude, and quick sense of humor, which brightened our days. Without him we could not have completed our book.

This year the class of '63 will send out into the world a group of well-rounded citizens who have succeeded both academically and athletically.

We have sent many athletes to state competition in baseball and track. Our scholastic abilities have been shown by the membership in the National Honor Society. This class will prove to be a source of pride and honor to Randolph.

Fellow Graduates . . .

Fellow graduates of Randolph High School! We have traveled a long hard road these last four years. All of our efforts will soon culminate in graduation. Graduation marks the beginning of a new and wonderful world. It marks the time we must put to use all of the knowledge that we have acquired.

Now we are sent out into this great world to chart a course of life. All of us shall set out to fulfill our fondest dreams. We have received all the necessary tools to reach our goals, but along with these tools must go work and sacrifice.

If we wish to succeed, we must be willing to sacrifice. Although we are confronted with the chance to relax and waste time, we must be willing to put this idle time to work. For the little sacrificing that is called for now, will pay for itself many times over in the near future.

As we pass through the front doors of Randolph High School, for the last time as a student, we feel that we are capable of handling any obstacle that may arise. For, in our four years as students, we feel that the faculty has done a conscientious job in preparing us. But we, the Class of '63, have one thing to remember—"No one knows what he can do until he tries."

As your president, I extend to you my wishes for a very successful future.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

You have already taken Algebra I, and Business Math is second nature to you. Many of you know all about the governments of the world through World History and Civics. Our nation's doctors of the future will come from your biology classes, and next year will yield future chemists. Two years are behind you! It did not take you long to adjust to the routine of the senior high school. Next year will be a breeze, in spite of the hard work involved in American History classes. Before you know it, your senior year will have arrived, and your life here at RHS will be over. Make the most of your next two years!

FRESHMAN CLASS

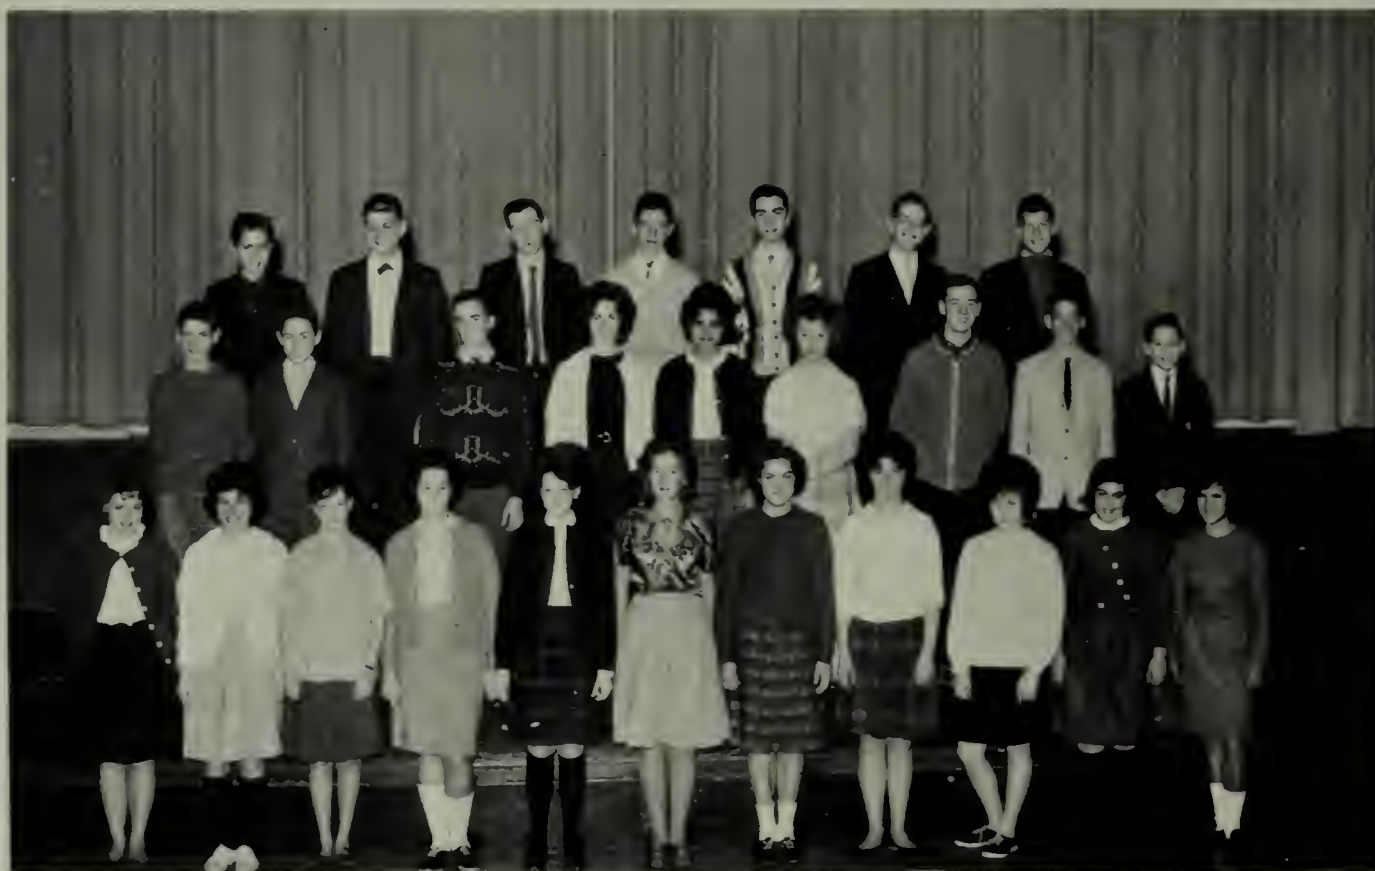

The Freshman year is the first step in the long climb to the top. This year you have experienced new activities which have started you off on that four year struggle. Everything this year was the first for you—your first high school dance, your first rally, and your first participation in high school sports. We predict great success for you in the future . . . we'll be with you in spirit!

. . . Tomorrows Mechanics

The boys who keep the automobiles running . . . The Randolph Vocational High School offers to the pupil interested in auto mechanics a four year course complete with class and shop work. At the completion of the course, job placement is arranged for many of the students. The course offered presents many varied, and interesting problems to challenge the student. The Vocational School has provided many outstanding mechanics, offered all a clearer insight into job operation, employment possibilities, and has opened to many a lifetime career in automotive repair. The technique the boys learn in school will form the basis of future development of automotive technicians skilled in their profession.

Guidance is many things to many students. It might be evidenced through counseling that assists in working out a personal problem; or through a testing procedure which contributes to a better understanding of one's abilities, or perhaps by a job or school placement which establishes a student in a post high school vocation.

This complex operation, the main facilitative arm of education, has proved beneficial to all of the students of R.H.S.; hopefully, better preparing them to face the outside world.

Languages . . .

MISS MARGUERITE O'NEIL
Head of the Language Department
French II, III, IV.

The modern language program in French, Spanish, and Russian at Randolph High School strives to guide more of our students in attaining greater proficiency and some in achieving real mastery of the foreign language skills. A person is proficient when he understands the language as spoken by a native, speaks the language in a manner acceptable to a native, reads and writes the language without reference to English. In the well-equipped laboratory, the student is given maximum practice in listening comprehension and in the oral use of the foreign tongue.

Mrs. Gail Mahoney

Mr. Richard J. Underwood
Fundamentals of Law, and Effective Speaking. Nat'l Honor Society Advisory Board.

The students at Randolph High are fortunate to have at their disposal a modern, well-equipped Business Department. Many new subjects have been added to the business program permitting a variety of knowledge and background information. Subjects such as business law, economics, and personal typing are available for college preparatory as well as business students. We are especially proud of our "Office Practice" room which, under the qualified supervision of Miss Diamond, operates as a model office. The practical training received in this realistic situation gives the student the ample preparation and "salable skills" necessary for a career in the business world.

Under the highly respected guidance of Mr. James Santry, the Council once again strived for the many projects it has always carried out in the past: Teacher Appreciation Day, Citizenship Awards, and the hundred dollar scholarship, are among the most outstanding.

We are very proud to honor the Student Council Advisory Board, whose first project was the successful Foster Parent's Plan. Together with the help of the student body, the Council works in close co-operation with Mr. Gilgan to solve several problems of both the students and the administration.

The symbol of the Honor Society is a tiny gold key. The four letters on the key represent the qualities of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. To be considered for membership in the Society, a student must hold honor grades, be an active member in extracurricular activities, and act as a responsible citizen in the community.

A student who is inducted into the Society, at an assembly held in the spring, has met the four requirements, and he is a proud representative of outstanding students everywhere. These honor students are well-known, mainly because of their excellent work. They are also easily recognized by the little pin they wear—the symbol of the many rewards gained by conscientious hard work and achievement.

Service To The School . . .

Now in its fifth year of outstanding service to Randolph High School, the Key Club is proudly continuing to uphold the high standards and ideals of our entire student body. Under the dedicated guidance of Mr. Santry, the members of the Key Club discuss the problems which prevail within the school and help to devise means of solving these problems. The members are elected by the Student Council on the basis of their ambition and desire to serve their school. Through their various functions, the Key Club members convey to the students a feeling of responsibility and pride in Randolph High School.

The Blue and White Banner, voice of Randolph High School's students, has once again been the victor in the battle against deadly deadlines, better-late-than-never copy, meetings, and press conferences. Still, the editors and their hard-working staff have managed to put out six news-filled issues. This year saw Banner editors attending the Boston Herald and the Boston Globe Press Conferences. Fun held sway at the Annual Banner Dance and at the Fashion Show. Rewards to the editors for that job well done: Satisfaction and the New York trip to the Columbia Press Conference.

Smooth working Editorial Staff completes

Hard work, late hours, arguments, and lots of fun constitute a year's work as a member of the Oracle staff. Little by little, with every picture, idea, copy, and deadline, the Oracle is completed. Two banquets and a five-day conference in New York reward the editors for a year's work. The 1963 Oracle with "symbols of our school" is the product of her devoted staff.

A staff of ten editors each with his own individual job, but all working toward the same goal—financing the year-book. Endless hours are spent over ads, pledges, bills, receipts, and many other details which help to build the year-book for which Randolph has always been proud. Our efforts are rewarded when we relive the memories and experiences of four exciting years as they come to life through the pages of our Oracles!

Dramatic Club — Gaining Poise . . .

The cast of "Beat It, Beatnik" relax after a long rehearsal.

The Randolph High School Dramatic Club supplements the cultural environment of the high school. It supplies speakers for the school assemblies and produces plays for the general enjoyment of the public. The members of the club learn better diction and gain self-reliance in their ability to express themselves before an audience.

An enthusiastic public made the annual play a smashing success. Mr. Anthony Vellante, our advisor, very ably directs the club plays. The Dramatic Club teaches, entertains, and awards many hours of fun to its members.

WILD-LIFE AND CONSERVATION CLUB

The Conservation Club of Randolph High consists of students interested in forestry and wildlife as a possible career. The club consists of different departments headed by the members. Thomas Verzone is the head of the Wildlife Department. Norman Bourbeau—Aves Dept.; William Curry—Geology Dept.; Margaret Curry—Urban Renewal Dept.; and Stan Burwell—Forestry Dept. Mr. Garnett, the advisor, and the members are currently engaged in a research program: "The Effects of the Growing Acreage of Urban and Suburban Land." The Effects have created new problems in conservation.

With the guidance of Mr. Crimmins, the members of the Chess Club are taught the strategies and tactics of this thought-provoking game of the past. Many an enjoyable hour is spent by the members challenging and practicing with one another. Needless to say, their greatest reward is being able to "checkmate" Mr. Crimmins!

LIBRARIANS

Koren, Moureen and Jean check the records to see whose books are overdue.

The whole purpose of the Library is to supplement the knowledge a student receives in the classroom and it is almost an obligation on the part of a pupil who wishes to be educated to avail himself of the opportunities provided here. No other road to learning is more profitable than this wonderful world of books. For those who are going on to college, the Library should be a second home: for those who go into Business or industry, the Library provides a more satisfactory approach to living. One need never be bored if there's a Library available for where else but in books would one find such variety of pleasure . . . something for the intellect, the emotions, the risibilities . . . endless treasures. This Library is provided for you. Become familiar with it.

The R.H.S. band have again this year acclaimed great honors. The unique half-time shows, concerts, and assemblies have brought much enjoyment to those who have been spectators and, also, to those who have participated in them.

Individuals of this organization have represented our school in District, S.E.M.S. B.A., and ALL-STATE, and have in this way brought added admiration to our school.

We have good reason to be proud of our band and should support them in every way.

The success of the band is due to the never ending efforts of their fine directors, Mr. Lacey and Mr. Rapoza.

Future Homemakers of America

Mrs. Lindsay Towell
Advisor of F.H.A.

Miss Carole Ehnes of F.H.A.

The Randolph chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, one of the busiest organizations in school, was honored to have two of its members hold state offices this year. Frances Dolan held the office of Historian and Lorraine Gallant, a junior of the organization, held the office of Parliamentarian.

Along with these two honors Judith Casagrande, President of the F.H.A. in Randolph, was a delegate to the national convention in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The F.H.A. calendar included: State meeting at Quincy High in Nov., Initiation party, Pizza party, Splash party, Faculty Fun Night, and the Installation of new officers.

After hours of endless practicing on the football field in biting cold, the drill team marches out at halftime in sharp precision. Then, accompanied by the music of the band, the girls dance a waltz, twist, or a hully-gully. We will long remember the strains of "Moon River", "Twist-time Twist", and "Midnight in Moscow", while the "Arabion Nights" show won acclaim from o newspaper. Behind the scenes, moking up most of these dances was Mary Tallofuss, Choreographer for this year.

Inter-scholastic sports hold a high degree of interest in Randolph, and this interest has been frequently and well rewarded by game, league, and state championships. Valued even more highly than the prizes, however, is the quality of sportsmanship developed by the participants.

THE 1962 BLUE DEVILS

Buddy Hart makes a gain in the Bridgewater game.

The 1962 edition of the Randolph High football team turned in one of its finest seasons in years. The 5 win, 4 loss record was not spectacular in itself but the manner in which it was achieved is the true story of this club.

Comprised mainly of underclassmen and a few fine veterans, this club jelled at midseason and won 4 of the last five games. A very satisfying victory over Scituate heralded the coming of age of this fighting team, followed by two stunning upsets over the reigning Class C champions, beating Oliver Ames (6-0).

This team then must be considered one of our 'fighting-est' ever and if one word could describe them it would have to be character. They had it.

For the second year in a row, Coach Thomas' Varsity Basketball has provided R.H.S. with a fine brand of high school basketball and many exciting moments. Although the team failed to qualify for the Tech Tourney, the players had nothing to be ashamed of, as they certainly hustled every time they took the floor. Sparking the Blue Devils in this, their final year of varsity play, were seniors John Sawczuk, Richie Zapustas, and Buddy Hart. Sawczuk was one of the most feared shots and better guards in the league. Zapustas was also a deadly shot and was a rock under the boards, while Hart was one of the best players in the state and made many of the All-Star teams. Coach Thomas is looking for even a better season next year as he has been tutoring such underclassmen as Bob Strickland, Bob Charron, Bob Govan, and Steve Payne.

Mr. O'Brien, Mickey Fleming, Arthur Maguire, Joe Balewicz, Mike Cartwright, Eddie Maguire, Fred Wilson, Frank Moran, Bill Brennan, Manager.

The Randolph Blue Devils completed their most successful season in history as they captured the Hockomock League title for the third season in a row and went on to win the Eastern Massachusetts Class "B" Championship. Barry Needham carved his name in the schoolboy hall of fame as he pitched four consecutive no hit games in a row during the season and became the only pitcher to win four games in the state tournament. Norm Tardiff led the Randolph offense in every department as he compiled a .437 batting average and belted 8 home-runs in leading the Blue Devils to their 20 and 1 season. Bob Denise turned in an outstanding job as shortstop.

Returning veterans Art Melia, Ron Zack, Joe Balewicz, Mike Fleming, Mike Gabardi, Fran Hart, Art Maguire, Mike Cartwright and Frank Moran will form the nucleus of the 1963 defending champions.

Grace and Beauty in Motion . . .

Sunny days or gray days, no matter what the weather, our cheerleaders are always there to build our spirits up. These pert and pretty girls are behind our teams all the way. They are the ones who add confidence, consolation, spirit, and spark to all of our games. We thank you for all the hard work and practice spent on our behalf.

Groceful motions, improved by practice . . . Louise perfects this jump.

TENNIS

In conjunction with the athletic program of the school, the tennis team showed their "esprit de corps." Co-captains, John Campbell and Ronald Rosenberg, led the other senior members Richard Goldman, William Lenahan, Stephen Calish, Arthur Cohen, and John Canavan in fostering the true spirit of good sportsmanship.

Underclassmen, Peter Maccini and Frank Azzariti show bright promise for the future. With the example set by the senior members of the squad, future tennis teams can assuredly look forward to success.

The team made great progress under the conscientious and dedicated guidance of Mr. William G. Garnett, coach. With his leadership, the interest in tennis reached a new high.

Mr. Garnett, Tennis Coach.

The Oracle staff acknowledges with gratitude the generous contributions of Randolph merchants, professional men, restaurateurs, school organizations and clubs to the success of this year's edition through individual advertisements.
We are sincerely appreciative and extend our best wishes to all for prosperous careers in respective enterprises.

Our New Little Sister

ROSALIA ZITO

Contributions from all the members of R.H.S., this year, made possible the 'adaption', under the FOSTER PARENT PLAN, of a young Italian girl, seven years of age.

This is Rosalia, whose family has come to know bitter privation ever since her father met a tragic death. He was a foreman in a workyard. He was killed in 1961, by a man of deranged mind and for no apparent reason. There was a small settlement, but this sum was owing to his employer, and in consequence, the widow was left penniless. Ultimately she was granted a pension and this amounts to 74c a day. There is no other living than this, and she has five children.

Her fragile mother is very ill with a chronic kidney infection, and cannot work, to afford the medical care and nourishing food she needs. After her husband's death, Rosalia's mother accepted her own sister's offer of shelter for herself and the half-orphans. The sister has a husband and three children, and their neat, though poor, three room home has become congested and nerve-racking.

Rosalia is a pretty and solemn little girl, with great, dark eyes and curly, dark hair, with glints in it. Her skin is olive, but sallow from malnutrition. She is plump from the kind of food she does eat, but not well nourished. She likes to go to school, where she is in the first grade, and she has found this a whole new world. She insists that she is going to be a teacher. Meanwhile she is a little girl, who in spite of her privation and want, finds her own little pleasures in the world around her . . . with a child's gift for happiness in very little.

The student body at R.H.S. has lost its heart to its charming 'little sister'.
